

CULTURAL HERITAGE

PRESENT CHALLENGES AND FUTURE PERSPECTIVES

International Conference
Rome, 21-22 November 2014

Call for paper

Following on the international conferences organized by the Faculty of Economics and the Department of Business Studies at Roma Tre University, namely Heritage and Cityscapes (October 5-6, 2012) and Sustainable Cultural Heritage Management (October 11-12, 2013), the new international meeting proposal aims to strengthen a permanent research seminar on the Cultural Heritage theme and to set up an informal academics' and specialists' network for fostering the debate, the sharing of projects and new methodologies, the technology innovation updates, the spreading of best practises.

The central topics of this Conference are:

- A. Analysis: knowledge, research, technologies, survey mapping, modelling, applications and best practices;
- B. Representations: museums, exhibitions, laboratories and discussions;
- C. Communication and participation: techniques, strategies, experiences, dissemination and user engagement;
- D. Valorization: sustainable cultural economics, promotion, ITC, innovative managerial approaches;
- E. Fruition: projects, experiences, best practices;
- F. Special session: Landscape and cityscapes.

The conference could be organized in a series of 15-20 min. contributions for each of the 6 sections with a debate at the end of each panel. These contributions may refer to theoretical essays, empirical research based on quanti- and qualitative approaches, case studies, achievements and ongoing projects, research prospects and methodological issues. Poster presentation will be welcomed as well. Academics' and practitioners' submissions are welcome.

A final round table with questions from the audience will allow to look in depth at eventual fields of interest and at the most effective methodological approaches for developing research group activities.
